WHO ARE WE?

At 4Pillars Sustainable Solutions, we partner with Non-Profits, NGOs, Businesses and Charitable Foundations to build highly sustainable, durable, adaptable, affordable multi-use structures from used shipping containers. Each customizable design is capable of Net Zero Energy and Zero Environmental Impact where they are needed most.

We build so much more than just a structure.

We also provide the training, tools, education, and elements necessary to cultivate healthy and sustainable communities in developing countries around the world. Our multi-use structures are designed to meet 10 of the 17 sustainable development goals set forth by the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

WE PASSIONATELY BELIEVE THAT THERE ARE 4PILLARS UPON WHICH HEALTHY AND SUSTAINABLE COMMUNITIES ARE BUILT:

PLANET:

100% of energy needs for 4Pillars structures are Net Zero Carbon through the use of proven, off-the-shelf wind, solar heat, biogas and photovoltaic renewable energy sources. We maintain zero resource waste through reuse, recycling, composting, biogas digestion, innovative water and refuse management, and long-lasting building materials designed to create zero landfill waste.

PROSPERITY:

A community is only as strong as its people and 4Pillars structures are designed to help create Jobs and Economic Growth for the people who live around them. We employ and train local engineers and laborers to assist with installation and construction. And we encourage micro-business development by providing access to a community garden, demonstrating sustainable agriculture, and recycling of plastic, paper and glass to further benefit local prosperity.

PEOPLE:

4Pillars structures allow for a harmonious relationship with the planet. We empower people with ongoing training and education for sustainable and peaceful living; tools and know-how for clean water, sanitation, and healthy sources of light, heating and cooking; all of which lead to opportunities for gender equality for women and men to generate income for their families.

PEACE:

Sustainable community development is dependent on peace. 4Pillars structures provide the resources, education, livable space, and economic abilities that establish the cornerstone for sustainable, peaceful, just and inclusive communities which are free from fear and violence. We promote this within every aspect of our company including the partners we work with.
